MUST BE NEUTRAL

ONE THING congress should do, but WON'T Do before, adjournment, is to adopt a rigid NEUTRALITY RESOLUTION.

We read a lot about the nation's law makers being TIRED and wanting to GO HOME. But, bear this in mind: the MUNITIONS MAKERS want them to go home more than any congressman wants a vacation.

The WAR LORDS of EUROPE are rattling their sabers, holding their parleys, trying to outwit each other.

Here's the resolution American munitions makers DON'T WANT PASSED:

1. Prohibit lending of private funds to any belligerent;

2. Ban sales and shipments of goods of any sort to belligerent;

3. Ban sailings of American ships across disputed waters;

4. Ban our citizens traveling across disputed areas save at own risk;

5. Disavow as a nation responsibility for loss of property, life or liberty by any citizen or concern violating these restrictions.

We might as well realize, that in less than EIGHT WEEKS Italy and Ethiopia will be fighting.

England and Japan are likely to be drawn into the fighting. That might also mean France and Germany. BUT IT MUST NOT MEAN AMERICA.

Congress may adjourn, but that word "adjourn" is not in the vocabulary of the War Lords.

WILL ROGERS

Once every several generations a man like Will Rogers comes along to restore our faith in humanity, and serve as a verification of the doctrine that cleaness and character really pay. We don't know why, but every two or three generations is about as often as God spares us such men.

From Shanghai to Peoria; from Timbuctoo to Limehouse; from the white house to the share croppers' shack, the world was one in its sorrow last week when it heard of the passing of Will Rogers. Will was a newspaper man, but no news writer ever before saddened the world in his going. He was an actor, but no actor before ever command-ed such eulogy. He was a wit, but no Falstaff ever measured sorrow of such magnitude in his farewell. He was a Man among men, a charming combination of homespun virtues and maybe thatin lies the cue.

We were proud to have been able to offer our readers Will Rogers as a feature of this paper. Our columns will suffer by the omission of his articles in the future.

Even at this nearness to his life, it is safe to state that Will Rogers will share, with Mark Twain the honor of being ranked as the best of American humorists.

NOT KNOX

It appears at this stage of the game that the G. O. P. is seriously considering Col. Frank Knox, Chicago newspaper publisher, for the presidential nomination.

There are many things about the Roosevelt New Deal that we, as old school Democrats, don't relish. But, be that as it may, we certainly couldn't go for Frank Knox.

Col. Knox in 1932 suggested that congress enact a sales tax, cut down expenditures and "go home." That simply meant to do nothing about unemployment, nothing about recovery; give relief to no one but the rich and that by replacing the income tax with the sales tax, which the poor man pays.

Knox's program in 1932 was not near so good as Hoover's and Hoover's was so bad it smelled to the high skies.

Were Knox nominated, he would make an entertaining critic of the Roosevelt administration. You see, he is a former general manager of the HEARST newspapers, and if there is anything in which the Hearst papers excel, it is the art of invective. Their method of argument is to cry "Communism."

As a matter of pride in the profession, we'd like to see a newspaper publisher named to the presidency. But Col. Knox won't do.

CCC WORKERS FIND YORKTOWN TRENCHES

Search Aided by National Park Service Maps.

Washington.—Fortifications used by French troops in the siege of Yorktown have been located by members of the civilian conservation corps working on the site.

When the CCC started work at Yorktown the fortifications had been obliterated by farming operations and their exact location was in doubt. Maps of the historical staff of the national park service had indicated the fortifications probably ran perpendicular to the York-Hampton road.

Working on that information, the CCC men ran test trenches through the area parallel to the road. Points soon were uncovered which by soil stratification and signs of disturbance indicated they once had been dug out. By connecting the points whole lines of trenches were identified and now are being reconstructed.

As a result of the CCC work and technical advice of historians it was possible to locate not only the first position of the French grand battery but also the first of a series of parallel trenches used by the French in their advance on Cornwallis.

The historical staff of the park service believes the fortifications first were constructed by British forces for the defense of Yorktown when it was learned that the combined French and continental troops were marching on the important colonial seaport.

September 28, 1781, however, the continental forces pushed toward the York river. They were surprised to find that the British had deserted the outer fortifications and had moved back to the inner trenches immediately above York town. By order of General Washington the allies took possession of the abandoned ground.

Farmer's New Fox Alarm Proves Its Efficiency

Bryantsville, Mass.—Willard Snow has become the Edison of this little town with his new fox alarm.

A crafty creature has been stealing Snow's poultry and evading capture with ease, so Snow put his inventive genius at work.

He tied a string to the foot of a dead duck and ran the line through a window to the table beside his bed, where he fastened it around a tin can full of pebbles.

The other night the can went rattling across the floor, and Snow, shotgun in hand, made a beeline for the hen coop. He found a fine red fox had invited itself to a duck supper.

Now Snow has the brush to show for his new alarm.

Bones and Scrap Iron Are Big Aid to Texans

Houston, Texas.—There is small possibility that Texas' plains will become littered with animal bones and scrap iron.

A small army of men make a profitable business of collecting and carting away junk which home owners and others dump on the prairies.

Old scrap iron brings prices from 15 to 20 cents a pound and junkmen dispose of all the bones they collect to chemical companies for $7 to $11 a ton.

Since 1929 many unemployed persons have supported themselves by gathering bones and crap iron in the vicinity of Houston.

Tricks Fail to Help in Case of Dog Ownership

Cincinnati.—In an effort to settle a court suit over the ownership of a beagle hound, Judge Samuel Bell had the dog brought into court here, but the canine was too full of tricks to be of any aid.

One claimant of the dog said his name was Colonel and the other said it was Bud. When the first, Joseph Bourgeois, called Colonel the beagle came and at his command did tricks. Then the second, Paul Marischen, called Bud, and the hound responded also and again did his tricks routine.

Judge Bell finally decided the case would have to be settled strictly on a legal basis. After taking this testimony he awarded the dog to Marischen.

Coed Time Limit Midnight

Corvallis, Ore.—Coeds ought to be able to have enough fun before midnight, decided the Oregon State college administration council. A petition from student living organizations to have the week-end "curfew" hours extended was rejected.

Lost Graves Yield Bones of Soldiers

Arras, France.—Once bloody battlefields, now flourishing farms and busy factory sites, still are yielding the bones of soldiers from unmarked graves of 20 years.

Many of them are identified to be sent home to rest in the village churchyard. Often a pencil, a watch or a ring is the means of naming them again after two decades on the "Lost In Action" lists. Unidentified bones are placed in a common charnel house with a last brief absolution by the village priest.

A corps of searchers, divided into teams of three, is paring off nearly every foot of earth where battle was known.

Confederate Reunion To Be Held In Texas

(Special to Times Virginian)

Amarillo, Texas, Aug. 21.— When the United Confederate Veterans meet in Amarillo, Texas, September 3 to 6, for their 45th annual reunion, it may mark the closing of this once mighty organization composed of those warriors who followed the Stars and Bars in the War Between the States.

Recent years have taken a heavy toll of the once grey lines that followed Lee and Jackson of the Confederacy. Only a trace of those gray waves of Southern men remain. Many, of course, are too feeble to attend a reunion of their comrades.

However, in spite of the great inroads which death is making in its ranks, General Harry Rene Lee, Nashville, Tenn., commanding the veterans, expects at least 1,000 members to meet in Amarillo, about 300 more than assembled at Chattanooga last year.

Amarillo, camp, forward with an invitation only when it was evident the Confederate veterans would not have a place in which to hold their reunion this year. Other cities have also invited them, later failed to raise a sufficient sum to stage the event.

All veterans and their attendants will be guests of the host city. Free meals and lodging are being made available in barracks, made possible with equipment borrowed from the United States army and in Amarillo homes. That Amarillo is determined to entertain the veterans with true West Texas hospitality is evidenced in advance preparations.

All railroads in the South and East have given special reduced rates for veterans and others attending the reunion. A special rate of a cent a mile will prevail for veterans. A reduced rate of one way fare for the round trip has been authorized for the Sons of Confederate Veterans and members of the following bodies: Daughters of the Confederacy, Children of the Confederacy, sponsors, chaperons, matrons, maids of honor of the U. C. V. and S. C. Vs., members of official bands in uniform and members of official Boy and Girl Scouts.

In Loving Remembrance of William B. Harvey, who died August 25,1934.

Too y brings sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest;
Who will always be remembered
By those who loved him best.
Often when I sit and wonder,
And life's troubles seem hard to stand;
How I long for the sound of your voice,
And the touch of your gentle hand.
Long nights and days, you bore your pain,
To wait for cure but all in vain;
And God above knew what was best
And took you home to give you rest.

His toils are past, his work is done,
He fought the fight, the victory won.

How your MONEY WORKS FOR YOU IN A Checking Account

When you put your money in a savings account you get interest on it. In a checking account you get service for it—and let the bank draw the interest. In return for this interest the bank gives you privileges worth far more to you than the interest itself.

When you maintain a balance commensurate with your use of your checking account privileges, the bank will be reimbursed for the expense of serving you. Otherwise, the bank may properly look to you to meet this expense.

Money in a checking account is an investment that pays you real dividends.

WHY WE CALL IT "AIR-CONDITIONED" AMERICAN GAS

OUR new American Gas is called "AIR-CONDITIONED" because it does the same things for a motor that "air-conditioning" does for trains, theatres, stores, etc. It keeps the motor cool, sweet and efficient—no matter what the outside changes in temperature and humidity may be.

For, even in the course of a day, a motor can be subjected to a lot of weather changes. And with existing regular gasolines it becomes erratic.

Because of its 100% Pure Petroleum Base—because it is not acid treated—because it needs no added chemicals—because of our new refinery and modern processes—and because of careful adjustment of light end content—we have been able to condition this new American Gas to counteract erratic motor performance caused by changes in outside temperature and humidity.

As a result of all these things, it is 100% clean burning—does not leave harmful deposits—has greater net power—and nets more miles to the gallon. And for good measure, a higher anti-knock rating than other regular gasolines to which chemicals are added for anti-knock alone.

"AIR-CONDITION" Your Motor!

Stop at any Yellow and Black American Gas Pump and fill up your tank with "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Then keep your car "air-conditioned" with "AIR-CONDITIONED" American Gas. Even though it costs us more to produce, it is being sold at regular gas price from Maine to Florida and inland by thousands of American dealers and stations.

Tangier To Be Included In Va. Fall Tours

Richmond, Va., Aug. 21.— Tangier, historic and quaint fishing village, located in the center of the Chesapeake Bay, has been added to the spots to be toured during the Virginia Autumn Travalogue, September 23 to October 19. Tours to the historic island were perfected here by L. K. Baker, chairman of the Travalogue's Tangier Island Tour committee. Three tours to Tangier from Richmond were proposed—September 29, October 6 and 13.

Parties are to be organized in Richmond and travel by bus to Reidsville, where they will embark on power craft which will take them on the two and a half hour ride on Chesapeake Bay, to the island discovered by Captain John Smith in 1608.

The Tangier Island tours are among a large group of autumn tours covering various sections of the state, to be offered the recreation seeker during the period from September 23 to October 19. The first of these will be tours on the 24th and 25th to South Boston, with the National Tobacco Festival as the destination. Others will include trips through Southwest Virginia, the Shenandoah Valley, Piedmont, and other sections.

Tangier is one of the quaintest spots in Virginia, according to the State Chamber of Commerce, with streets eight feet wide, where many inhabitants have never seen an automobile except in motion pictures and where the only means of locomotion is carts, an occasional bicycle, wheel barrows and boats.

The islanders are all fishermen, many of them using the "cunner" or canoe, with its rakish mast, which gives to Tangier Island boats a distinctiveness that is immediately recognizable. Tangier is the soft shell crab center of the east where vast quantities of this delicacy are shipped during the season.
